

STACER

▲ Stacer 389 Territory Striker

Built by boaties for boaties, Stacer goes all-out to make the kind of boats fishos and families would want to own. Established in 1971 and purchased by Telwater in 1999, Stacer has maintained an industry wide reputation for quality, strength and dependability.

Stacer builds fishing and family friendly boats with practical features that are affordable, easy to handle, economical and are long lasting.

Stacer currently offers an impressive 74 models within 7 ranges so there is a boat to suit every need. Starting with Open Boats for the entry level boaties, the Proline range and sporty SF Series for the fishing enthusiast, the popular and diverse open top Outlaw range, the Seamaster Runabouts range for family cruising, the Wild Rider Bowriders for a bit of luxury and finally the Ocean Ranger Cabin range for those who enjoy an overnight adventure.

After nearly 50 years in the industry, Stacer boats have established a solid reputation for inherent reliability and longevity. Whether an angler, a first time boat buyer, or an experienced mariner, the benefits of a Stacer built boat will go the distance.

With a network of authorised dealers who are committed to providing an enjoyable buying experience along with excellent after-sales service.

Each model in the range delivers value for money, with several models equipped with a wide range of features to make your time on the water an enjoyable one. We have ensured that there is a boat in the extensive Stacer range to suit every need so no matter what your requirement for an aluminium boat, investing in a Stacer product will surely satisfy.

The release of the Revolution Hull coincides with Stacer's new model release for 2018 and features across their new range of runabouts- the Seamaster, the revamped Crossfire range, the new bowrider range – the Wildrider and of course the Stacer favourite the Assault Pro.

The Revolution Hull has been developed through the natural evolution of the Stacer's famous and renowned Assault Pro Hulls.

Stacer's in-house Research and Development team have spent extensive time not only designing and creating the perfect formula for a softer, stable and superior riding hull but testing and trialling performance in a multitude of conditions.

The final product, the Revolution Hull, combines a concave bottom sheet design with Stacer's EVO advance pressing and a raised chine creating a high performing hull that glides over the water.

The high performing Revolution Hull offers a complete enjoyable experience, delivering a balanced ride with superior stability underway and at rest.
